WOMAN'S WORLD.

A STRIKING FIGURE AT THE RECENT HORSE SHOW IN NEW YORK.

Margaret Mather's Marriage.
July 30 the Rev. Frank A. Pease, pastor of the Methodist church in this city, married Philip G. Pease and Margaret Mather (Margaret Mather). They presented themselves in an everyday manner at the parsonage, and as Miss Mather gave her maiden name the clergyman had no thought of who she was. The couple drove from the city in a carriage and left for Chicago on the next train. Both gave Chicago as their place of residence, and when Mr. Pease said, "We have Pease in this state," no indication was given that the groom was a relative, nor did the clergyman know until some time after his visitors were.

Six weeks after the marriage Mr. Pease met Mr. Pease on the train coming from Milwaukee, and then, in a conversation, he admitted that Captain Pease, of Milwaukee, was his father and his wife was Margaret Mather. At the time of the marriage no special request was made, so Mr. Pease says, to keep the marriage a secret, but when he met young Pease on the train the latter asked that it be kept quiet for a time, saying he intended explaining matters to his father soon. He said that his wife was in California, and that he was going to join her there, adding they were enjoying life very much. Pease and Miss Mather were alone at the time of their marriage—Kenocho Cor. Chicago Herald.

Women and Pottery.

Connoisseurs at home and abroad concede that in the peculiar bronze tinted pottery known as Rockwood America has achieved its first and only artistic ceramic creation. American ceramic history may be said to date from the Colonial, when the Japanese display suggested to the fertile genius of a woman, Maria Longworth Storer, the artistic possibilities of the clay of her native Missouri valley, and the first Rockwood was modeled. To a woman, too, Miss McLoughlin, the world is indebted for the discovery of underglaze painting, which gave such an impetus to pottery decoration.

Now there are 10,000 women actively engaged on the modeling and decoration of pottery in the United States, and the great army of amateurs who decorate cups and saucers and plates for their own homes, reproducing, with much skill the most original work of the practical decorators or copying the work of the world models. A National Ceramic association of these women workers has been founded, of which Miss McLoughlin is president and the late Mrs. Benjamin Harrison was vice president, and it is desired to establish a national school where women may study without going abroad.—New York Sun.

Marriage and Diplomacy.

The German emperor is determined to have no trifling with his diplomatic corps. The German ambassador at Peking, Herr von Brandt, has just become engaged to a young American lady, to the satisfaction of the friends of both parties.

Not, however, to that of the Emperor William. He sees in the proposed alliance a dangerous situation for the secret affairs of the empire.

"The position of a German diplomatist," he is reported to have written, "is such as to preclude his marrying a woman of another nationality."

Evidently German intrigue in China is something even more insidious and crafty than the world is aware of. Its secrets are such that the agents themselves may only marry German women.

The question is whether this is complimentary to the latter or not. Of course the American young lady is an exceptionally dangerous person, but the emperor does not seem to have considered that the best way to make her dangerous is to get her safely married.—St. James Gazette.

Women in the Congregational Church.

Women are becoming active in the Congregational church. There are four in New York who preach, and all very acceptably. Two are regularly in charge of churches and are ordained. The first, Rev. Annis F. Eastman, has a wide reputation as a speaker, lecturer and preacher, and is pastor at West Bloomfield.

The second, Rev. Juanita Breckenridge, is a graduate of Oberlin College and Theological seminary, thoroughly fitted for her profession, and is the successor of Mrs. Eastman at Brooklyn. Mrs. H. E. Gurney, now supplying temporarily in Philadelphia, and Mrs. Ethan Curtis preach occasionally, when called upon for such service.

At the request of the church officials Mrs. Curtis recently supplied the pulpit of Dr. Packard, New York city, in the absence of the pastor. All are described as women of refinement and culture and able to interest and instruct congregations. Mrs. Clara L. Buell has accepted a call to Gaylord, Mich. The first church in Everett, Mass., has elected six deaconesses.—Boston Woman's Journal.

Aristocratic Fools.

Mr. Beecher used to amuse himself at times estimating the cost of each individual strawberry raised for food farm, and Mrs. Jessie Bartlett Davis, the celebrated horticulturist, held similar amusement in computing the cost of the eggs her hens lay. No domestic fowl were ever more luxuriously housed than are the prima donna's chickens. They know the beneficence of hot and cold baths, electric lights, steam heat, hardwood floors and all other up to date appliances of civilization. The henhouse itself is a two story structure, its walls ornamented with pictures of fighting cocks and chickens with a pedigree, and even the roosting rods are ornamental. The singer's farm, where this interesting sight is to be seen, is a few miles out of Chicago.—Harper's Weekly.

Paying an Election Bet.

Three well known young ladies residing in that part of the Falls known as Sunnyside paid off election bets Wednesday evening by appearing upon Broadway clothed in men's apparel. A civilian suit, a bicycle suit and a gentleman's suit, fable beads and plug hats formed a part of the disguise. Some little boys playing under an electric light at the corner of Pine street and Broadway first spotted the maidens, and it would be hard to tell which were frightened the more, the boys or the girls. The girls sought refuge in a neighboring house.—Springfield (Mass.) Union.

MAKING CANDY AT HOME.

Try a candy party and see if you do not enjoy yourself more than you have ever done before at such an affair. Why? Because at your novel candy party you are going to make some very nice candy, and conduct the party on regular organized principles that will insure its success.

The materials required for the candy party are ten pounds of confectioner's sugar—obtainable at any grocery—five strictly fresh eggs, a cake of chocolate, half a pound of dates, a small quantity of dedicated coconut, some vanilla flavoring and a few drops of peppermint or wintergreen.

You have now on hand the ingredients for fifteen or more pounds of candy—much more than you care to make, no doubt—you may, if you please, get only half the quantity of sugar. But it is more satisfactory to work with the larger quantity.

Let the mistress of ceremonies break the five eggs into a big earthen bowl, and then, without beating the eggs, add to them an equal quantity of water. Now begin to stir in the sugar. It should be added a cupful at a time until the candy mixture is so stiff that the arm of the stirrer refuses to perform its task.

This is the critical part of French candy making. It should be so stiff that it will stand alone, like broadened velvet. Now add a little vanilla flavor to the compound, and let the amount of vanilla be determined upon by the complexion you have designated at the beginning of the evening to act as "tasters."

All hands now fall to work upon the mixture in the bowl. It must be quickly and deftly molded into chocolate drops, each one of which is quickly stirred in the melted chocolate by the couple presiding over the chocolate pan.

When enough chocolate drops have been made and set away upon glass paper to cool a cupful of the mixture is taken out and mixed with the dedicated coconut, and rolled by the couple appointed to look after the interests of the coconut candy. Little balls of the mixture are pressed into the stoneware dishes to make the "cream" dates of the candy store, and the artist possibilities of the clay of her native Missouri valley, and the first Rockwood was modeled. To a woman, too, Miss McLoughlin, the world is indebted for the discovery of underglaze painting, which gave such an impetus to pottery decoration.

Now there are 10,000 women actively engaged on the modeling and decoration of pottery in the United States, and the great army of amateurs who decorate cups and saucers and plates for their own homes, reproducing, with much skill the most original work of the practical decorators or copying the work of the world models. All are described as women of refinement and culture and able to interest and instruct congregations. Mrs. Clara L. Buell has accepted a call to Gaylord, Mich. The various portions of the skirt are shown by the diagram, which takes five widths, or six yards, of the material. The skirt is folded to avoid a seam, and the measures given apply only to the half shown, and here, if twenty-five is the figure employed, there must be a corner formed at each side to continue the slope of the width. This skirt is exceedingly simple in make and suitable for all soft woven material. It is lined throughout, and as it is now the fashion for the bottom edge to stand out well there is usually a facing of horsehair creoline.

The "granny" skirt has no darts at the top. The front is very slightly "eased" into the band, and in each side pore are four flat plaits, quite small, and running off to a point at the hips. The back is very closely plaited, the plaits turning backward and lying over the other.

Fancy Garters.

Very few women nowadays wear the regulation old fashioned garter, though many cling to the "elastic" band in yellow worn below the left knee. This is the emblematic luck bracelet, and is worn simply because it is regarded as a mascot, and not because of its supposed efficacy in keeping up the stocking. To make one feel perfectly taut and trim the silk elastic band that anchors at one end to the corset and at the other to the stocking is the most reliable style known. Besides in this there is nothing unhealthy, which is more than can be said of the band either above or below the knee.

Women who possess handsome garter buckles will of course wear them, even though they know the shape of the limb is sure to be distorted by the tightening process brought to bear upon it—that is, if they wear them. Besides in this there is no one but a real old fogey would wear them below it, though the single yellow one might be tolerated for good luck. The side straps can be made just as dainty and can utilize six buckles instead of two, which really is a recommendation to the extravagant maiden of the day.

To Crochet Mittens.

Set up chain for wrist large enough to pass over the hand, and crocheted round and round, widening for the thumb each turn, forming a V with the widening stitches on either side the thumb. At the union of the thumb to the hand make a chain of five, reaching from one point of the V to the other, and crocheted rest of the mitten to cover the fingers. Finish by crocheting the top of the thumb.

Choline in Pennsylvania.

Swickley, Penn.: We had an epidemic of cholera, as our physicians called it, in the place where I reside a great bit with Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I sold four dozen bottles of it in one week and have since sold nearly a gross. This Remedy did the work and was a big advertisement for me. Several persons who had been troubled with diarrhoea for two or three weeks were cured by a few doses of this medicine. P. P. Knap, P. O. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. R. Fisher, drugist.

Basin Spring Stock Farm!

Forest Home Breeding Stock.

HAYWOOD, N. S. H. B. 696.

Half mile race record in pace 1:10.

Is dark chestnut roan, star in face. Foaled 1885, and has as much style as anybody's horse. He was sired by Wyandottor, 2:28; he by Old Tempest, 2:18, also sire of Black Billy, 2:22; Black Bird, 2:20; Tagard, 2:26; Zephyr, 2:21; Grey Harry, 2:21; Red Joe, 2:27 and numerous other good ones. His dam is the fastest saddle mare in the county. Haywood has never met his equal as a saddle horse, and shows saddle colts from all kinds of mares. His gait is natural, goes them by the halter or loose in the lot.

SNOW BALL.

Black Jack, white points, 15 hands high, fine length, good bone and muscle with great head and ears. He is by Calwell's Giant, the great Jennett Jack of Danville, Ky., and stood at $50.00; and is a brother in blood to Silver Crown, that sold in January 1893 for $5,000, with one-sixth interest retained.

This Jack has stood the highest test—that is winning two out of three premiums at the Shelby county fair, where the pick of Kentucky are shown.

This stock will make the season at M. LYDDAN'S stable. Season begins April 1st, ends July 1st, when Haywood goes in training to make a record better than 2:20.

TERMS:

HAYWOOD—To insure a colt to stand up and suckle . . . $12.00
To insure a mare in full . . . $10.00
To breed the season through $8.00, with return privilege.

The Farmers' Egg Basket!

"All the king's horses and all the king's men, couldn't put Humpty Dumpty up again!"

No use for horses or men either. When you put Eggs into one of these Baskets they are all right.

The Farmers' Egg Basket is not a cheap splint, but is made of veneer, firmly bound with bands, has a board bottom and strong handles. The sides and ends are colored. It is made in a very substantial manner and will last for years. The fillers are equally well made of straw board and heavy paper, securely attached. The basket holds, when fillers are in position, TEN DOZEN EGGS. When empty, the fillers fold up into very small space, leaving the greater portion of the basket available for carrying merchandise.

It is an article of real convenience and utility and so recognized by farmers everywhere. Its merits, and the advantages to be derived from its use are apparent. All you need to do is to try one and you will not be without one in your household.

HOW TO GET ONE?

The Breckenridge News has secured control of the sale of these Baskets in Breckenridge, Meade and Hancock counties, and will sell them to its subscribers at prime cost in connection with the paper. The Baskets retail at 50 cents each. We will furnish a basket and the paper one year for $1.25. The subscribers will also have a chance in our premium list, which will practically make the basket cost you nothing. If you are already a subscriber and paid in advance, secure a new name and $1.25 and we will send you a basket free.

This is one of the most desirable premiums for the farmer ever offered by any newspaper, and it will more than pay for itself in six months in the item of broken eggs.

Don't fail to secure one of these baskets and the BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

Sulzer's are showing new things in dress goods. Ladies, examine their stock.

Store room for rent April first with best business location in town. Apply to G. W. Short.

Ladies, if you are thinking of getting a new carpet this spring we advise you to see Sulzer's line.

Mr. Hunsche, manager of Sulzer's Tailoring department was in town Monday and did a nice business.

Mr. A. F. Dugger and Miss Irene Newsum, daughter of Dr. R. L. Newsum, were married last Thursday evening at the residence of the bride's father, on High street. No cards.

The Rev. M. M. Benton of the Episcopal church will hold service in the Presbyterian church Sunday next, morning and evening, also Monday and Tuesday morning and evening, March 20th 21st 22nd.

The Methodists in this city are wonderfully fortunate in having a good pastor a good choir and Dr. J. B. Cotrell who is so ready and does assist in all their services. Rev. Morrison and his good wife are both very popular in the church and social circle and have already drawn to them many "warm friends in and out of the church."

Messrs. G. W. Mills, John A. Vetter and F. W. Hudson, three prominent gentlemen from Louisville, came down Friday for the purpose of examining the road and mines that lie back from the railroad in Hancock county between here and Havesville. They returned the service of Prof. Thos. Wroas as guide, and after examination they pronounced them good mines. The chances are that there will be a branch road from the Texas and that in the near future these mines will be in operation.

Cloverport at the World's Fair.
Prof Brown sent four splendid pieces of art to Chicago Monday. They were drawings executed by students of the Cloverport High school, and they will go on exhibition in the educational department of the Kentucky display.

The first "Temple of Our Liberties," by Miss Forrest Moorman, aged thirteen years, represented the relation of the people, the Constitution, the law, the States and the Legislative, Judicial and Executive departments; the second was a diagram and proof that "The square does not exist on the hypothesis of a right angled triangle is equal to the sum of the squares of the other two sides," by Lorenzo Camp, aged fourteen, and Forest Lightfoot, aged sixteen; the third was a drawing of the osseous and muscular system by Miss Laura Yeager, aged eighteen; fourth was a map of Kentucky, by Miss Rosa A. Ryan, aged thirteen.

All the drawings were done in colors, and they are truly beautiful, both in tint and in exact correctness in position and direction of angles. They speak well for the young artists, and there will not be the least of the millions of articles that will attract attention at the great World's Fair.

Mothers' Recommendation.
We are acquainted with many mothers of Centerville who would not be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house for a good many years. It is so, and is recommending it every day. From personal experience we can say that it has broken up bad colds for our children. —Centerville, South Dakota, Citizen. 50 cent bottles for sale by A. R. Fisher, druggist.

B. Randall Moreman, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Moreman, departed this life March 13, 1895, ago one year and ten days.

Little Randall's stay on earth was quite brief, yet long enough to impress himself on many hearts so indelibly that he will live in their memories forever. We sometimes feel,

"There is no death, he's only gone where he's waiting for us."

He is singing now the glad new song "Amen the angel band."

BRECKENRIDGE NEWS.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 22, 1893.

RIPPED UP
THE BACK.Governor Brown Comes Back at
Ex-Governor Buckner and Fully Demonstrates.That He Knows a Thing or Two
About the Affairs of the State.NO PERSONALITIES INDULGED IN.

As was promised and generally expected, Governor Brown has published his reply to the scathing letter of ex-Gov. Buckner, published a couple of weeks ago.

"Gov. Brown, in his last statement, reviews the facts leading up to the present controversy and says it was then his sincere purpose in the presentation of his conclusions to 'nothing to be done, nor down again in malice.' Says Governor Brown:

"It was not a mere voluntary work, but an official and responsible task imposed upon me by the request of the General Assembly which for information. We had our choice to do this in a perfunctory way, by adopting the views of others, or to do it earnestly, by making as best we could—an investigation for ourselves. The latter course was preferred. There was no purpose to assail anybody, and whatever may be regarded as an accusation was necessarily the inference from official documents quoted and not the language of any comments thereon.

"This report was strictly an official paper—in response to the inquiry of the General Assembly. With vituperative bitterness I have been attacked for this report by ex-Governor Buckner, and the personalities of his holding. It requires no courage to abuse a man holding the position of Governor. The proprieties of his position forbid that he should engage in a personal controversy with a private citizen. It is the duty of the public to see that the proprieties of his position are maintained, in which he disputes the correctness of a solitary item in the statement made of the indebitness of the Mason & Ford company to the State. He says:

"As a basis for the deductions you propose to draw, you make an extended extract from the contract with the lessees concluding a stipulation that the lessees agree 'to faithfully conform to all rules and regulations of the Sinking Fund Commissioners respecting the labor, dirt, clothing and safe-keeping of the convicts * * * and they will maintain the State all expenses in the maintenance and operation of the prison.' In the first place, you begin your quotation as if it were the commencement of a sentence or paragraph, occurring after a period; when, in fact, it begins in the middle of a sentence, following after a comma and controlled in its interpretation by words which you significantly and deliberately omit. Your quotation begins 'said lessees agreeing,' etc., when in connection with the controlling words, it should have read that the State, among other things, agreed to 'lease the labor of 218 convicts, the same varying with the general contract existing and applicable under the law, to be confined in the Edenville prison, when the same is completed, to the party of the second part for the term of ten years from the date of this contract, said lessees agreeing, etc.' This suppression is in still another part of your communication, where you quote nearly fifty lines of the contract, concluding: 'And also lease the labor of four hundred and eighteen convicts, more or less, etc., for the period of ten years from the date of this contract, etc.' In this double attempt to deceive the Legislature in regard to the facts of the case, by substituting the sign, 'etc.', for the controlling words of the lease, you give the quotation as if it were the only part of the contract bearing upon the subject you are discussing, and thus fortified by what you would set forth to the public as all the facts in the case, you charge the account of the lessees with the monthly dues for lease of convict labor from October 2, 1888, to December 24, 1892, the date upon which the contract was first appointed by the State.

The ex-Governor charges that the contract, as published in the report to the Legislature, was garbled by omission of an important clause thereof. This is not correct. When this verbiage manifesto is boiled down and analyzed, the simple issue it raises, is when did that contract take effect? It was made by him as Governor with the Mason & Ford company, and dated the 24th of October, 1888. Did it go into effect on that day? The labor of 418 convicts was leased on that day. Prior to that time the State reserved the right to withdraw convicts from the Frankfort penitentiary to work there under the terms Commissioners, who had been first appointed to superintend the construction of the Edenville prison, and many of these convicts were there when the contract under discussion was executed, and by virtue of its provisions they were at once turned over to the control of the Mason & Ford company. It reads: 'Also lease the labor of four hundred and eighteen (418) convicts, more or less, the same varying with the general condition existing and applicable under the law, to be confined in the Edenville prison when the same is completed, to the party of the second part, for the period of ten years from the date of this contract.

"The party of the second part further agrees to pay into the Treasury, at the end of each month, a sum equal to the pay then due of all officers and guards that may be necessary to be employed by the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund as provided by law, and that they will acquit the State of all expenses in the maintenance and operation of said prison. 'Ex-Governor Buckner maintains that a part of this contract was not enforceable until the Edenville prison was completed. I have affirmed that it was operative at once in its entirety, and if I can prove that fact as true at once becomes a heap of dust and ashes."

Gov. Brown goes on to prove that the contract entered into was immediately enforceable and operative. He quotes ex-Auditor Hewitt to show the convicts were worked outside the prison walls without any authority. He then refers to the legislature investigation of 1890 and quotes from the testimony of the witnesses to show the cruelities and hardships the convicts were subjected to in the camps and in the prisons.

"These cruelties and beastly practices were disclosed by this investigation, but the officers and guards responsible therefor were left untouched. The then Governor was removed since I came into office for unlawfully punishing a demented man by blows with a strap when he struck up by the thumbs. For this removal calumnies and denunciations were heaped upon me."

"From the facts extracted from the testimony taken by the committee of the General Assembly, I have attempted to show how the convicts were cared for elsewhere as claimed by Gen. Buckner."

Gov. Brown claims that Gen. Buckner was silent, in his communication, as to six vital questions submitted and made touch upon Gov. Brown's original communication. These questions were: 1. In connection with the investigation of inquiry, and concerning the delinquency of the Mason & Ford Company.

In conclusion, Gov. Brown says:

"I have attempted to make a plain statement of the facts as they can be added, but I shall not go further in this matter. 'My oath of office was to 'take care that the laws be faithfully executed.' When the letter of Gov. the law states the public official in the face I do not believe in shirking the responsibility of obedience to its command by taking refuge in the position of a private citizen. I have said my plain of necessity or humanity. No man is greater than the law. Nothing excuses a deliberate disregard of its directions. The officials of the State are not exempt from the law. The law is a public trust. The creature should not assume to be greater than his creator. Assumption of authority or neglect of duty, in this case, brings disaster to the State and stains the conscience. The related horrors of convict life were the legitimate offspring of autocracy in official and unrestrained greed in contractors."

"It has been my misfortune, in my official pathway, here and there to disturb a viper—and occasionally to arouse a nest of them. I expected this. I have with perfect composure heard their hissing, but am not conscious of having been harmed by their poisonous fangs. In the sounding plaudits of Gov. B. I have believed I catch familiar echoes—arousing a suspicion in this matter that the 'voice' of Jacob's voice, but the hands are the hands of the law, and the law is the law, with the prediction that the suit to be instituted for the State will accomplish nothing. I am in the minority of the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners. I have said that the suit could be accomplished under different conditions. The contracts discussed are ropes of sand. The lessees are in the saddle of the law, and as the law is the law, the suit is increasing at the rate of about $1,500 every month."

"In the future, as in the past, I shall be honest, fearless, and unswerving in the discharge of the solemn obligations of my official oath, doing always what I believe to be right. I shall obey the law, and do as best I can, my duty to my fellow-citizens."

The attention of the hall players who receive wages of one kind or another every day, from bar or hall, is directed to the fact that Sinking Fund bill is the best application in use for cure of cuts, bruises, and sprains, etc.

Carnegie, the great Spanish dancer, was in Louisville last week.

Mrs. Rudolph Finer died at her home in Louisville, aged 40 years.

Herman Verhoff, a well-known merchant, died at his home in Louisville, aged 60 years.

Henry C. Baker, of Trigg county, was found dead in his bed after retiring in good health. His death was caused by heart disease.

Piles of people have piles, but Dr. W. H. Hays will cure them. Short & Haynes, Louisville, Ky.

The Deadfield coal mines will resume operations about April 1st. The new buildings are said to be much better than the old ones were.

"Spotted Fever" has about disappeared from Butler county, but it is feared that it will make its appearance in contiguous neighborhoods.

Mr. James A. Johnson, near Sorgho, Davies county, fell into the fire while in a fainting fit and was seriously burned before help could reach him.

Hop. Stewart, a well-known police man, of Henderson, arrested a negro who was wanted for murder in Pike county. Gov. Stewart gained a reward of $150 by the arrest.

Do you lack faith and love? Let us establish your faith and restore your health with Dr. W. H. Hays' Sarsaparilla. Short & Haynes, Louisville, Ky.

Simon Phillips, a Louisville pawn-broker, while examining a pistol that an unfortunate wished to "ask," accidentally discharged the weapon and he is now minus a finger.

A little ill, then a little pill. The ill is gone the pill has been, Dr. W. H. Hays' Little Early Risers the pills that cure great ills. Short & Haynes, Louisville, Ky.

The good citizens of Litchfield have formed a law and order committee and cleaned out the bawdy houses. One house was blown up with dynamite, but no one was injured.

W. J. Stuy, a Methodist divine, of Nicholasville, was attacked by a ferocious dog, thrown to the ground and severely torn and mangled before assistance could be rendered.

A skeleton was found in a barrel among the effects of a medical student who was leaving a Louisville school. The ghastly find was made at the Seventh street depot.

It is a truth in medicine that the small est dose that performs a cure is the best. Dr. W. H. Hays' Little Early Risers are the smallest pills, will perform the cure, and are the best. Short & Haynes, Louisville, Ky.

During the time appointed for the receiving of bids for the leasing of the Frankfort penitentiary, bids were received, and the state will probably have to run it itself.

The most intelligent people of our community recognize in Dr. W. H. Hays' Little Early Risers pills of unequalled merit for dyspepsia, headache, nervous prostration, very small, perfect in action. Short & Haynes, Louisville, Ky.

Dr. M. B. Boley's horse, of sheep, in Bullitt county, and killed $100 worth of the woolly animals in a single night. The Doctor has brought suit against the owner of the dogs.

"There is a cure for every wound." We refer to Dr. W. H. Hays' Witch Hazel, cures burns, bruises, cuts, indolent sores as a local application in the nostrils, it cures catarrh and always cures piles. Short & Haynes, Louisville, Ky.

Mr. Frank Harney, Jr., and Miss Ida Taylor, his prominent young wife of Harlan county, were to have been married. The wedding was indefinitely postponed by Mr. Harney eloping with another girl on the eve of the wedding.

There is to be a wrestling match at the Temple Theatre in Owensboro, Tuesday evening April 1st. If anything is going to be accomplished under different conditions. The contracts discussed are ropes of sand. The lessees are in the saddle of the law, and as the law is the law, the suit is increasing at the rate of about $1,500 every month.

Miss Maule Owensboro is quite sick at the present writing.

Mr. Chris Ashcraft, of Sandy Hill, made a business trip to town Thursday.

Mr. John Miller, of Custer, made his brother-in-law, C. C. Smith a short visit last week.

Mr. Jake Shacklett, Jr., of Garrett, purchased one of the prettiest ponies of the race, price paid $55, cash.

Miss Blanche Jolly, of Belleville, was in town last Thursday soliciting aid to repair the Methodist church, but at that place, she was not successful.

Miss Clara Adkinson is in the city catching on to the spring styles in military, and intends bringing on a new stock to this town this spring.

Mr. Jesse Ashcraft and son, Albert, were hauling corn from this place together with a lot of other farmers who purchased a car load in St. Louis.

A brand new cargo, of the side-part, was shipped to this town last week. It is the very best quality of tobacco which we believe is agent for the Columbia Carriage Co., of Milwaukee, Wis.

Before one step into the depot office and never imagine it is the same place as for our "Tidy" Mr. Brown took possession, and it is not, so to speak. For he runs everything on the "right side" of the plan.

Bro. Dan Shacklett who is attending the Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, will honor us with a sermon in the Presbyterian church, at this place on Saturday night, April 1st. Everybody is invited to attend.

Since Dick Baskett arrived with his car load of ponies, horse swapping has become so common in this town that a man actually rode up by the side of a locomotive the other day, and asked the engineer if he wanted to swap horses, the man wasn't drunk either.

Mr. Richard Wathen, of Bardonia Junction, has ordered from Stark Bros., "Pine county, Missouri," a large number of apple trees, to be set on part of the old Wathen place near Irvington. The location is good and the soil is rich and it is believed that the best orchard in Breckenridge county.

Mr. Charley Patterson, of Rowlett station, Hart county, who has been attending Mr. J. L. Simpson's school near Grimesport, was in town last week trying to negotiate a deal with Mr. Dick Baskett for a pony. Mr. H. is an old bachelor of seventy odd, and is a great admirer of the "fair sex," and he believed that the younger dropped that Miss C. L. A. is his favorite of the young ladies in that vicinity. Now T. D. don't get jealous.

We have heard several reading and singing the "work" of that Ben post, and being of a jealous disposition, we want of a political turn of mind, we want part of the fun and praise ourselves. So here goes for our first attempt. If we expect to do better in the future, that is, after we "get on" to writing poetry.

Mary had a little sheep,
She scattered it with kindness,
She struck it down the hill,
She didn't do so many more.

Can't be beaten! Mr. J. G. Wiltz, Blue Mount, Ky., writes: "I have used Salivation Oil with wonderful success for inflammatory rheumatism in my foot. It cannot be beat."

Tobacco Slaves.

It is so strange that so many men, and some wise ones too, in other words, it is a should form the habit of using tobacco and continue to use it through life.

Why do they do it? Is it because it is pleasing the habit? If it were, we would have no more of it. It is because it is a habit, and a habit is a habit, and it is a habit that is hard to break.
